Welcome

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to the International Academy of Nursing Editors (INANE) annual meeting! The conference is produced by Wolters Kluwer Health/Lippincott Williams & Wilkins—a market-leading global information services company.

INANE offers you educational sessions that will elevate you in your current role, inspire transformation, promote innovation, and energize you both personally and professionally!

The planning committee, influenced by experts in the field, emerging trends, and the challenges inherent in medical publishing today, has endeavored to create a program specifically to meet the needs of nurse editors, as well as those who are aspiring new and future editors. We've sought out and secured first-rate faculty—experts in their respective fields, to present relevant core topics such as using social media, ethical issues for nurse editors, copyright issues, impact factors, the future of nursing, and so much more.

We'd also like to extend a special “thank you” to our sponsors for their support of the meeting. A complete listing of supporters can be found on page 3 of this booklet. We appreciate their generosity, and couldn't have done it without them!

I encourage you to participate in all of the sessions as they were designed to be an open forum for communicating with each other. We have some new and exciting offerings this year, as well, such as a Speed Meet & Greet and a Poster Networking Session. This year is the first year that posters will be introduced to the conference...and you'll earn continuing education credit for viewing them too! Another highlight will be the Dinner Cruise on San Francisco Bay—a fun and exciting social event open to all attendees and their guests!

Additionally, the conference is accredited for continuing education credit! Look for your continuing education self-report certificate in your conference registration material.

And to top it off, you'll be staying at the newly renovated Sir Francis Drake Hotel – the proud host hotel for this year's conference.

Looking forward to connecting with you at INANE!

Peggy L. Chinn, RN, PhD, FAAN
Conference Chairperson, INANE
Professor Emerita, University of Connecticut

Continuing Education Information

Purpose

To support nursing editors in improving the overall quality and standard of their publications.

Objectives

After attending INANE, you'll be better able to:

- Apply national and international standards to improve journal quality.
- Manage the legal, ethical, and social challenges in healthcare publishing.
- Network with faculty and colleagues to maintain and grow relationships.

Accreditation Statement

Lippincott Williams & Wilkins (LWW), will award a maximum of 11.5 contact hours for this continuing nursing education activity.

Lippincott Williams & Wilkins is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

This activity is also provider approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing, Provider Number CEP 11749, for 11.5 contact hours. LWW is also an approved provider by the District of Columbia and Florida #50-1223.

Your certificate is valid in all states.

The ANCC's accreditation status of Lippincott Williams & Wilkins Department of Continuing Education refers only to its continuing nursing education activities and does not imply Commission on Accreditation approval or endorsement of any commercial product.

Earn a CE Certificate

Each participant must complete and return the white copy of the self-report certificate and overall conference evaluation form at the conclusion of the conference. Please keep the yellow copy of the certificate for your personal file. Attendees must complete and return all evaluation forms before you leave the conference in order to receive your certificate.

 The YELLOW copy is your certificate! You will not receive another copy. Please keep this important document in a safe place. *****

SELF-REPORT CERTIFICATE INSTRUCTIONS

- You'll receive a 2-part (self-report) Continuing Education Certificate with your conference registration materials.
- Please complete all of your registration information including name, address, and license number and initial next to any/all sessions you attended.
- Write in the appropriate amount of credit for each session you attended as noted on the form. Sign and return completed form to the registration desk.
- Return the white copy of the Continuing Education Form before you leave the conference. The yellow copy is your certificate. You will NOT receive any additional confirmation or certificate. Should you misplace or lose your certificate after the conference, there will be a $10 charge to obtain an alternate copy.
- Keep your certificate for your own records. Only send a copy of your CE certificate to the state board of nursing if it is requested. Wolters Kluwer Health/Lippincott Williams & Wilkins will maintain your continuing education records for 7 years.

OVERALL CONFERENCE AND INDIVIDIAL SESSION EVALUATIONS

- You'll receive a survey monkey via e-mail shortly after the conclusion of the conference. This evaluation is a mandatory requirement for accredited programs. Please make time to participate in the survey once you receive the e-mail message. The information will be used to plan future events.

Session 101

The Unvarnished History of a World-Class City:
San Francisco in the 19th and 20th Centuries

John P. Elia, PhD

*Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Homosexuality
Professor & Associate Chair, Department of Health Education
San Francisco State University, College of Health & Human Services
San Francisco, CA*

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

John P. Elia, PhD (University of California, Davis, 1997) is professor and associate chair in the Department of Health Education at San Francisco State University, where he has taught for nearly 25 years. He teaches courses on the history of public health in the US, contemporary sexuality, health in society, consumer health, and introduction to the health professions. Additionally, he serves as an EdD doctoral program faculty member. Dr. Elia's current research interests include the history of public health in San Francisco and the history of school-based sexuality education in the US. He has co-edited 5 books, written a number of scholarly articles, book chapters, encyclopedia entries, and book reviews in the areas of human sexuality studies and LGBT & queer studies. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Homosexuality, an internationally recognized peer reviewed scholarly journal in sexuality studies. In 2010, he won the Sarlo Award for Excellence in Teaching. He continues to teach a history course entitled "History of San Francisco" at a local community college.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

San Francisco is a world class city with a fascinating history. This presentation examines how and why San Francisco was "put on the map" as a prominent US city along with its magnificent achievements and not-so-proud moments. San Francisco transformed from a small, relatively unnoticed town to an internationally recognized city within a few years after the Gold Rush. However, not all that sparkled was glorious. Amidst its remarkable growth and achievements, San Francisco was home to quirky characters, shenanigans, and tragedy. On the one hand, it was viewed as a socially progressive city, yet there were various instances of social inequalities. This presentation will reveal the high and low points of San Francisco's rich and vast history.

Session 201

Plenary Session:
Speed Meet and Greet

Lucy Bradley-Springer, PhD, RN, ACRN, FAAN

*Editor, Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care, Aurora, CO
Associate Professor, University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus
Mountain Plains AIDS Education and Training Center*

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

Lucy Bradley-Springer, PhD, RN, ACRN, FAAN, is an Associate Professor of Medicine at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus where she is the Principal Investigator of the Mountain Plains AIDS Education and Training Center. Dr. Bradley-Springer has been working in the area of HIV infection since 1988 and has developed expertise in HIV prevention, prevention with positives, retention in care, and methods to teach health care providers about HIV infection. She has a special interest in the history of nursing in the HIV epidemic. Dr. Bradley-Springer is a past president of the Association of Nurses in AIDS care and a fellow of the American Academy of Nursing. She is the current editor of the Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

INANE provides a unique opportunity for nurse editors from around the world to interact, share expertise, and discover ways to solve common problems. Lucy Bradley-Springer will conduct an exercise with the group to initiate and expand these interactions during the 2011 conference.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Network with various editors in order to explore answers to professional challenges.
- Discuss 3-5 creative ideas from other journals.

Kim McAllister, RN, BSN, CEN

ER Nurse, Blogger

Hayward, CA

Leslie H. Nicoll, PhD, MBA, RN

Editor-in-Chief, CIN: Computers, Informatics, Nursing

President & Owner

Maine Desk LLC (<http://www.mainedesk.com>)

Portland, ME

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

Maureen "Shawn" Kennedy, MA, RN is the editor-in-chief at the American Journal of Nursing, "the leading voice of nursing since 1900, where she oversees editorial content in the journal, on the Web, and the library and journal resources. Prior to this, she was the editorial and news director, and director of special programs, in which she developed grant-funded editorial projects on emerging and timely health care issues, and AJN's international photo contest and traveling exhibit. Shawn also was the director of conventions and exhibits, in which she managed two annual national nursing conferences. As a clinician, she worked as a clinical nurse specialist in adult nursing and as an emergency nurse. She received a BSN from Hunter College-Bellevue School of Nursing and a master's degree from New York University College of Nursing. Author of book chapters and articles in AJN and elsewhere, she coauthored with Thelma Schorr, 100 Years of American Nursing-Celebrating a Century of Caring. Shawn was recently inducted into the Hunter College Hall of Fame.

Kim McAllister started blogging in 2005 and never looked back. She is the author of Emergiblog: My Life and Times as an ER Nurse. A 33-year veteran of the nursing profession, Kim credits her blogging with renewing her passion for nursing and catapulting her into the alphabet soup of higher education. Having earned her BSN online from the University of Wisconsin in 2010, Kim will begin the online MSN program at California State University, Dominguez Hills in September. She is not quite sure what she wants to be when she grows up, but is pretty sure she will be the oldest MSN graduate in existence. She is excited to share her passion for blogging and social media with you today.

Dr. Leslie Nicoll is the Editor-in-Chief of CIN: Computers, Informatics, Nursing and President and Owner of Maine Desk, LLC, located in beautiful downtown, Portland, Maine. Maine Desk provides editorial consultation and will be celebrating its tenth anniversary in November of this year. CIN is the leading nursing informatics journal in the world and Leslie is very proud to be the editor. In addition to her CIN and Maine Desk work, Leslie is the Coordinator and Program Manager for the Portland Community Free Clinic, which provides free primary health care to folks who lack health insurance and don't have the means to pay for care out of pocket. Leslie is happily married to the world's most patient man and is the mother of two "ever evolving" children. The newest member of the family is a rescue poodle named Monday, who came to her forever home on April 9th and is bringing great joy to the entire household.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

Twitter and Facebook and Blogs, oh my! Nurses are among the many people adapting to these new ways of not only receiving content, but becoming part of the conversation in determining what content becomes important. As journal editors, you need to know what's important to your readers and to reach them where they seek information. Panelists Shawn Kennedy, Kim McAllister and Leslie Nicoll will explain the various new channels and then following this session, will lead breakout session to help you get started on creating a presence for your journal.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Describe social media channels and which are commonly used by nurses.
- Describe 3 goals for using social media.
- Outline a specific plan to use social media as part of a journal's strategy.

Previously, Hassmiller was with the Health Resources and Services Administration, where she was the executive director of the US Public Health Service Primary Care Policy Fellowship and worked on other national and international primary care initiatives. She also has worked in public health settings at the local and state level and taught public health nursing at the University of Nebraska and George Mason University in Virginia. Hassmiller is the recipient of numerous awards, including the 2009 Florence Nightingale Medal, the highest international honor given to a nurse by the International Committee of the Red Cross. She is a member a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing and a member of The Joint Commission Nursing Advisory Council and the New York Academy of Medicine.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

The Institute of Medicine released its landmark report on the Future of Nursing on October 5, 2010. Since then nurses at all levels and nursing organizations have been called to action with partners from other sectors including government, medicine, health care administration, consumers and business to change the face of health care delivery forever. Dr. Hassmiller will discuss key aspects of the report and implications for nursing journal editors.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Identify the IOM recommendation content areas.
- Verbalize key messaging and objectives of the campaign.
- Identify the stakeholders of the campaign and how they are involved.

SPEAKER BIOS

As Editor of the Journal of Infusion Nursing, Mary Alexander writes bimonthly columns for the journal and has editorial responsibilities for a bimonthly membership newsletter, INS Newslines. She is an editor of the Core Curriculum for Infusion Nursing, 3rd edition, and Editor-in-Chief of Infusion Nursing: An Evidence-Based Approach. She is also the Chief Executive Officer of the Infusion Nurses Society (INS), an international, nonprofit specialty nursing organization of more than 7,000 members, and CEO of the Infusion Nurses Certification Corporation.

Jennifer Brogan is Vice President of a large portfolio of Lippincott Williams & Wilkins publications and products that cover Nursing, Medical & Health Professions. Jenn is responsible for the overall strategic development and management of this program which also features Targeted, Consumer and Newsletter publications. Her staff, which includes 9 publishers and the WK Chief Nurse, manages more than 90 society and proprietary journals. In addition, Jenn oversees the widely used Lippincott's NursingCenter.com. A native of South Jersey, Jenn holds a Masters in Literature from Rutgers University.

Nina Milton has been involved with nursing book and journal publishing for more than 25 years. She is currently responsible for Elsevier's US and UK nursing journal publishing program, and also manages their Physical Medicine and Pharmacy journal lists. Prior to joining Elsevier in 2002, she held positions with VerticalNet (Nurses.com and HospitalNetwork.com), Lippincott Williams and Wilkins, John Wiley, and Rittenhouse Book Distributors.

Angela Richardson is an Editor at Wiley-Blackwell, responsible for the development and management of all US Nursing Journals. Angela has worked in publishing for nearly 10 years and began her career in publishing as a managing editor for a large computer science journal in the UK. She then moved to the Oxford office of Blackwell Publishing to advise editors on best practices. This was swiftly followed by a transatlantic transition to the Boston office of Wiley-Blackwell 4 years ago and has been working with Nurse Editors, Nurse Associations and Nurse publications ever since. With all of the challenges that the changing world of publishing (let alone the changing world of nursing) brings, it is no coincidence that Angela has recently become a qualified kick-boxing instructor.

Dan Ruth is a Senior Acquisitions Editor in health sciences at SAGE Publications, based in Southern California. He has been in publishing for over 30 years, beginning as a proofreader and copy editor at WB Saunders in Philadelphia and working in marketing, textbook sales, and both book and journals acquisitions. He joined SAGE in 1996 and has helped the journals list there grow from 100 to over 600 journals.

Session 304

Plenary Session: Copyright in Motion

Dru Zuretti, MEd

Manager, Copyright Education
Copyright Clearance Center, Salem, MA

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

Dru Zuretti has been with Copyright Clearance Center since December of 1997, and has served in a variety of customer facing roles, including management of the Customer Relations Group. In her current position, Dru travels extensively throughout the United States, and visits many college and university campuses, corporations and publishers at their request. She also has been a presenter on copyright issues for a variety of national conferences including O'Reilly Tools of Change, the Medical Library Association (MLA) Annual Conference, the Center for Business Intelligence, and Text & Academic Authors Association (TAA). Dru is a member of the National Speakers Association and has a Master of Education degree from Cambridge College.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

In today's dynamic digital environment, publishers and readers are using many platforms to share and access content, including Twitter, Google, YouTube and Blogs. Awareness of copyright implications and best practices in content reuse are important factors in making decisions related to using and sharing copyright protected materials. In this session, we will discuss basic copyright law and licensing of content in a Web 2.0 environment.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Identify the laws pertaining to protection of published materials.
- Identify implications for licensing content in a web 2.0 environment.

Breakout Session:
It's Not the Factor, It's the Impact
Evidence-Based Evaluation of Nursing Journals

Joy Kennedy, MSLS
*Librarian, Northwest Community Hospital
Arlington Heights, IL*

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

Joy Kennedy is presenting on behalf of Peg Allen, Pam Sherwill-Navarro, and herself. Her attendance at the conference has been funded by the Nursing & Allied Health Resources Section of the Medical Library Association. Joy is the librarian at Northwest Community Healthcare in Arlington Heights, IL , an acute care hospital with over 500 beds which has just been re-certified as a Magnet hospital.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

Do you know how your authors select the "best" journal for publishing their knowledge-based nursing information? Or how top priority journals are chosen for an institution's library? On behalf of her colleagues from the Nursing and Allied Health Resources/Medical Library Association (NAHRS/MLA) research projects related to scholarly nursing journals, Joy Kennedy will present the final results of the NAHRS/INANE Nursing Journal Editor Survey; descriptive research on journal characteristics such as peer-review, index coverage, electronic access, and evidence based content, and selection criteria for the NAHRS Nursing Journals Core list, including data from the NAHRS Mapping the Literature of Nursing studies.

OBJECTIVES

- Describe the NAHRS/MLA research project related to scholarly nursing journals.
- Identify new developments affecting library journal purchases.
- Describe results from the NAHRS/INANE Nursing Journal Editor Survey.

Breakout Session:
Nursings' Silence on LGBT Issues

Michele (Mickey) Eliason, PhD
Associate Professor
San Francisco State University
San Francisco, CA

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

After twenty years at the University of Iowa College of Nursing, Mickey Eliason joined the faculty of the Department of Health Education at San Francisco State, and currently teaches in a master's of public health program. She has conducted research on lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender health for many years, including studies of nursing and other health care professional's attitudes about LGBT patients and studies of substance use and abuse in LGBT populations. She also does workforce development for substance abuse, mental health, and primary health care professionals on LGBT healthcare issues.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

This study involved content review of the top ten nursing journals by 5-year impact factor from 2005-2010, searching for articles about or inclusive of LGBT people or issues. We found very little recognition of the existence of sexual and gender identity diversity, and a disproportionately small number of articles about LGBT topics. We discuss the implications of these findings to nursing as a discipline

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Recognize how and why nursing has fallen behind other health care disciplines in addressing LGBT issues.
- Learn how the nursing literature in the past ten years has dealt with LGBT issues.
- Understand what strategies can be done at the levels of nursing education, scholarship, and national organizations to remedy this silence.

Jan Odom-Forren, PhD, RN, CPAN, FAAN
Co-editor, Journal of PeriAnesthesia Nursing
Assistant Professor, University of Kentucky, College of Nursing
Lexington, KY

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIOS

Renee Holleran has been the Editor of the Journal of Emergency Nursing for the past 5 years. She was previously the Editor of the Air Medical Journal. She currently works as a staff nurse in the Emergency Department at Intermountain Medical Center in Salt Lake City Utah. She also practices as Family Nurse Practitioner at the Hope Free Clinic. In 1996 she was President of the Emergency Nurses Association.

Vallire D. Hooper, PhD, RN, CPAN, FAAN, Co-Editor, Journal of PeriAnesthesia Nursing in Asheville, NC and Jan Odom-Forren, PhD, RN, CPAN, FAAN, Co-Editor, Journal of PeriAnesthesia Nursing from the University of Kentucky, College of Nursing in Lexington, KY will also present during this session.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

The word advertising evokes a variety of reactions. However, when mixed with professionalism it can cause even further distress. The focus of this presentation is to discuss the challenges of advertisement in a professional journal including what should be advertised; who decides what is advertised; who approves the advertisements; encounters with one's professional association; conflicts and competition with one's publisher and what policies and procedures should journals and editors have in place to avoid problems.

Plenary Session:
Reality Strikes: How Do You and Your Journal Move Forward?

Lucy Bradley-Springer, PhD, RN, ACRN, FAAN

Editor, Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care, Aurora, CO

Associate Professor

University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus

Mountain Plains AIDS Education and Training Center

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest or Intent to Discuss Off-Label Use of Medications: None

SPEAKER BIO

Lucy Bradley-Springer, PhD, RN, ACRN, FAAN, is an Associate Professor of Medicine at the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus where she is the Principal Investigator of the Mountain Plains AIDS Education and Training Center. Dr. Bradley-Springer has been working in the area of HIV infection since 1988 and has developed expertise in HIV prevention, prevention with positives, retention in care, and methods to teach health care providers about HIV infection. She has a special interest in the history of nursing in the HIV epidemic. Dr. Bradley-Springer is a past president of the Association of Nurses in AIDS care and a fellow of the American Academy of Nursing. She is the current editor of the Journal of the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care.

SESSION DESCRIPTION

This session will be a culmination of interactive exercises to help participants discuss things they've learned during the conference and how they can implement these new ideas (or not); share ways they have already implemented social media; and explore new areas of concern. In addition, a needs assessment will be conducted to begin planning for the 2012 INANE Conference.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this presentation, the attendee should be better able to:

- Discuss feasible options to advance use of social media in journal work.
- Develop a plan to implement new social media activities.
- Identify 3 lessons learned at this conference.
