INANE 38th Annual Meeting
Nursing Journal
Hall of Fame

Recognizing 50 or more years of continuous publication and sustained contributions to nursing knowledge
INANE is grateful to Marion Broome, Editor of Nursing Outlook and friend of INANE who generously provided funding for the awards for this year’s Hall of Fame inductees.
We are sad that Marion can’t be with us today, but she has a good reason why!

Thank You!
Thank you to the INANE HOF Committee, who assisted with setting policy for Hall of Fame selection and identifying this year’s HOF Journals.

Nursing Journal Hall of Fame
Kai Tiaki in hall of fame

KAI TIAKI Nursing New Zealand is to be inducted into a nursing journal hall of fame. The hall of fame was established by the International Academy of Nursing Editions (INANE) in 2018 to recognize journals with 50 or more years of continuous publication and sustained contributions to nursing knowledge. Thirteen journals were recognized last year; this year, an additional seven are being honoured.

The induction will take place at INANE’s 14th annual meeting at the end of July in Reno, Nevada. Kai Tiaki was first published in 1908, making it among the four oldest of the 20 journals honoured so far.

Seven years ago, thirty-eight persons with an investment in professional nursing — most of them nurses — subsidized the launching of Nursing Forum and a second journal, PERSPECTIVES IN PSYCHIATRIC CARE, by stock purchases of $18,600 in the newly created corporation. Nursing Publications.

From where we sit — in the editor’s and publisher’s chair — the impetus of that forward movement is being checked at critical points by disappointing displays of apathy and indecision as to direction.

A Comment...

• The Nursing Editor’s History Project is vitally important.
• Every day, we lose a little bit more of our editorial history.
• HOF Journals last year:
  • Three required hand searches
  • One hasn’t been started!
  • Duke University Library Service Center (off site storage)
  • Thank you to Marilyn Oermann!
This Year’s Journals...

• The archive of the CJNR was a treasure trove of information!
  • Had archives of front matter and a “summarizing” editorial!
• JNN – DaiWai’s “Welcome” Editorial gave the editor history
  • Still missing pictures of covers from the past and pictures of some editors
This Year’s Journals...

- IJNS had full archives online that I could access through Duke University
  - Still need pictures of past editors
- Nursing Forum and Perspectives on Psychiatric Nursing – archives online, but behind a paywall.
  - Thank you to Evelyn who compiled information for PPC!
  - Thank you to Allie and staff at Wiley who gave me access to the archives!
What Can Editors Do?

• Complete a NEHP data form for your journal to have it included in the NEHP.
  • Updates will only need to be made going forward (ie, when the editor changes).
• Consider listing past editors on the masthead, with dates.
  • Example at right is from the AJN.
What Can Editors Do?

• Include the Editor-in-Chief and other Editors on the masthead!
• If the masthead is only included on the website (not printed in the journal), work with your publisher to make sure this information is archived and available for future access.
• Give editorials descriptive titles that provide information about content—not just “Editorial.” Same with announcements, prologues, etc.
• Include your name as the author of the editorial!
